RÉSUMÉ DU CONTENU / ENGLISH SUMMARY

After ten years of publication, the authors of the review Criminologie formerly called Acta Criminologica wished to summarize their ten years of work. This, then, is a special issue.

Since this scientific review is published by a redaction committee composed of professors who teach in the field of Criminology, and is related in a way to the evolution of the Faculty, there are various articles on the School of Criminology of the Université de Montréal, created in 1960 by Professor Denis Szabo, on the International Centre for Comparative Criminology, a research body which exists since 1969, and on its various research teams.

The reader will also find information on the careers of Quebec's criminologists, on their Professional Associations, as well as a list of their publications and reports.

Les anciens numéros de la revue sont disponibles sous forme de microfiche chez Johnson Associates, P.O. Box 1017 Greenwich, Con. 06830 U.S.A.
