THE DAVID ALEXANDER PRIZE

The David Alexander Prize is awarded annually for the best essay on the history of Atlantic Canada written in course by an undergraduate student in any university. The winner of the prize for 1991 is Phillippe Garvie, a student at the Université de Moncton, for his essay entitled "La mise en place du réseau téléphonique et son influence sur le développement de Moncton et Saint-Jean entre 1891 et 1931". The winner is selected by a panel of judges including the Honourable George Stanley of New Brunswick, Professor Neil MacKinnon of St. Francis Xavier University and Professor Eric Sager of the University of Victoria.

The David Alexander Prize will be awarded for the eleventh time in 1992.

Conditions: Entries must be undergraduate essays between 1500 and 3500 words in length on some aspect of the history of Atlantic Canada, written in English or French. They may be research, interpretive or historiographical efforts. The author must be a part-time or a full-time undergraduate student in a degree programme at an accredited university or college. The essay must have been written to meet the requirements of an undergraduate credit course during the 1991-92 academic year. Previous winners of the Prize may not compete.

Submission: Entries shall be submitted by course instructors no later than 15 May 1992. No instructor shall submit more than two entries. Essays must be typed neatly and should not bear the instructor's comments or a grade. Entries should be sent to The Secretary, Acadiensis, Campus House, University of New Brunswick, P.O. Box 4400, Fredericton, NB E3B 5A3.

Adjudication: Entries will be judged by a panel of three distinguished historians. The winner will be announced in the autumn of 1992. No runners-up or honorary mentions will be designated.

Prize: $250.00

We gratefully acknowledge the financial support given to Acadiensis by the University of New Brunswick, the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada, and the School of Graduate Studies and Research, University of New Brunswick.
