Cover. Anyox, BC, in August 1983 (courtesy of Tom Schroeter), looking west across Falls Creek with the black smelter slag dumped on the shore to the left, Powerhouse No. 2 at the foot of the waterfall on the right, the terrace where the former smelter was built above the powerhouse, and the smokestacks on the ridge behind. The powerhouse has been recognized as an important heritage site and nominated for inclusion in the Kitimat Stikine Regional District Heritage Register.
