EDITOR'S NOTE/ NOTE DU DIRECTEUR

Labour/Le Travailleur 5 is the first issue in our new redesigned biannual format. In it, we are pleased to continue features we introduced in L/LT 4 such as review essays and book reviews. We are also delighted to introduce some new features which we hope will become permanent parts of our publication. Thus we have a series of conference reports and Nancy Stunden has provided an update on Canadian archival holdings of labour-related materials. In L/LT 6 Doug Vaisey will supply a bibliography of materials published in 1978 pertinent to the study of Canadian labour and will add an addendum to his previous Bulletin lists.

In this issue I would also like to extend thanks on behalf of the editorial board to two recently resigned members of the L/LT team. Russell Hann, L/LT's associate editor in 1979 and a member of the editorial board from the beginning, made major contributions to the journal's success. Equally Nancy Stunden, who has also resigned as labour archivist at the Public Archives of Canada, will be missed both as an editor and as the Committee on Canadian Labour History's vice-president. We wish them both success in their new ventures.
