Technology in Canada Through the Lens of Labour History, Scientia Canadensis Vol. XV, No. 1, p.5

In the first paragraph, after the lines "As a result, little is known about labour's contribution to the shaping of Canadian technology, a contribution which has taken two main forms. First, labour has had a direct and critical impact on the technology in its implementation and improvement." There was in the manuscript the line "Second, labour has played an qually vital but indirect role in the design of technology." which was omitted. Our sincere apologies to Prof. Lutz.
