

About the Authors

Alain Beaulieu is Associate Professor of Philosophy at Laurentian University. He has a Doctorat de 3^e cycle in philosophy from the Université de Paris 8 with a thesis on Gilles Deleuze et la phénoménologie (Sils Maria/Vrin, 2nd ed. 2006). He is co-editor of Foucault Studies. Email: <abeaulieu@laurentian.ca>

Earl Black is the Manager of Accessibility Services at Laurentian University since 1989. He is a graduate of Sault College of Applied Arts and Technology and also an alumnus of Laurentian University. Email: <ebblack@laurentian.ca>

Martin Boucher has completed his M.A. Humanities at Laurentian (where he received the M.A. essay award) and is currently enrolled in the Ph.D. Program in Human Studies at Laurentian University. Email: <martin.boucher1@hotmail.com>

Sean Cousins has completed his M.A. Humanities at Laurentian and is currently enrolled in the Master of Education Program at Queen's University. Email: <0spc1@queensu.ca>

Jana Duncan has completed her M.A. Humanities at Laurentian and a degree in Special Education at Laurentian's School of Education. She is currently enrolled in the Ph.D. Program in Human Studies at Laurentian University and is a Special Education Teacher at Sudbury's Gatchell School. Email: <jj_duncan@laurentian.ca>

Moir Ferguson is Sessional Professor at Laurentian University's Sociology Department. She is currently a candidate in the Ph.D. Program in Human Studies at Laurentian University.

Email: <mx_ferguson@laurentian.ca>

Angelo Muredda has completed his M.A. Humanities at Laurentian (where he received the M.A. essay award) and his M.A. English at the University of Toronto. He is currently enrolled in the Ph.D. English Program at the University of Toronto.

Email: <angelo.muredda@utoronto.ca>